Editorial

"THEIR CUP IS, NOT OURS"

No student of European affairs can escape cognizance of the War Curse that has spun its way through continental history.

From the time the Visigoths conquered Gaels, Romans subdued Picts, Attila overpowered Franks, the War Curse has left its trail of blood. Europe thinks in terms of War. It dreams in terms of War. It plans, acts, believes in, lives for, dies for, works, toils and saves for its apparent destiny . . . WAR. It is the curse of the continent. Looking back over 1,500 years of European history, you'll find about as many war years as peace years. One war lasted 100 years!

The War Curse is about to Europe. Not since August, 1914, that meiodramatic date that shocked the world, has the danger of another great catastrophe been so manifest. The new war may break out this week—next month or in a year. Nobody knows. BUT, THIS WE DO KNOW. IT IS ONLY A MATTER OF MONTHS OR MAYBE WEEKS BEFORE EUROPE IS EMMESHED IN ANOTHER WAR OF TITANTIC SCALE . . . UNLESS THERE IS A RADICAL CHANGE IN PRESENT POLICY.

With that fact this editor here in Appomattox shall not dwell in length. No words from his pen can effect what happens in Europe.

But here's something we have got to say. Because it concerns YOU and concerns ME and every other American. Here it is: The War Curse of Europe Must not be Grafted on American!

We have approved of virtually every move made by Franklin D. Roosevelt since he became president of these United States. But right now we beg and plead that America immediately withdraw its "floating" ambassadors from Europe and stop getting involved in military alliances.

Monday's papers this week heralded the news that America, France and England were together in a new alliance against Germany. Is that so? Since when has it become the policy of an American administration to trek over to Europe and invite WAR by engaging in the pastime of "playing chip on the shoulder." Shades of George Washington!

We've had to pay for Europe's last war. I say WE have but the real fact is that our great-great grand children won't finish paying for Europe's last war. We got sucked into that war and were left holding the bag. They won't even pay us 1 and one-half per cent interest on the money Uncle Sam paid over 4 per cent to borrow from us to lend them! Now Uncle Sam is having to run a FOUR BILLION DOLLAR BUDGET on the back of millions of unemployed.

Yes, sir, we're paying for Europe's last war. But that's not enough from the greedy bellyrots. They borrowed money from our bankers to build battleships, airships and buy munitions and train men for their next war. Yes they did! Already before the first shot is fired, Americans are playing the old Army Game again and are already signed up to pay for the next war. That will take the debt down to our great-great-great-great-great-grand-children!

And now they have the audacity to suggest "removing trade barriers" by means of tariff truces! Tariff truces, me eye! Low tariffs are good Democratic policy—but tariff truces are not. Can it be that Roosevelt will actually fall for the European Mousetrap of tampering with the tariff walls that keep out of America a tidal wave of cheaply made manufactured articles that would absolutely wreck American industry?

As an American citizen and a Democrat the editor of this paper calls for a return to the ideals and principles of the immortal Virginian, George Washington. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the name of the "FATHERS OF OUR COUNTRY" avoid "ENTANGLING ALLIANCES" WITH EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

America prospered in political isolation. Europe has bled generation after generation with its CURSE OF WAR. We got embroiled in their last war. PLEASE, PLEASE, let's stay out. Call all the Alliance Makers home, Mr. President—We've got enough to keep us busy at HOME.

"In the Heart of Everything"

Points To Soy Beans

As a result of the announcement of a soybean plant to be erected at Norfolk by the Allied Mills, Inc., to process and export beans, requests are coming in from many farmers as to varieties desired by the plant, the prices that may be anticipated, as well as other information.

In reply to a letter from the Agronomy Department, W. B. Krueck, a representative of the Allied Mills, has this to say about varieties—"At the present time most light-colored varieties of beans seem desirable for our purpose. We, of course, would favor varieties that will be good yielders in order that the farmers might make a real profit." In regard to price, Mr. Krueck has this to say—"The success of the plant, of course, will depend somewhat on the response of the farmers to produce beans that may be processed. If bean growing is made profitable to the farmers it will certainly mean that we are making an investment in an indesirable location and that our project must fail. Therefore, the program must be mutually beneficial."

It is not anticipated that farmers will get rich growing soybeans for the Allied Mills, but it would seem that many cotton, peanut and tobacco farmers could substitute soybeans to advantage—only for a portion of the acreage, which has been devoted to these crops. It offers fine cash crop, fits in the rotation, can be used for hay and is a soil improver.

Varieties for seed—As a light colored bean is desired by the Company it would seem advisable to sow some such variety as Tokio, Mammoth Yellow, Hollybrook, Haberlandt, Herman, Dixie, or some other yellow colored bean. The varieties named are not as high in oil content as some dark colored varieties, but since light-colored meal is desired, it seems advisable to sacrifice oil content for color.

Seeding—The rate of seeding will depend upon the method used and the size of the seed. One-third to one-half as much seed is required to plant in rows 24 to 36 inches apart, as to drill broadcast. The above named varieties should be seeded at the rate of one-half bushel in rows, or one and one-half bushels broadcast. If one of the special soybean harvesters is to be used the rows should not be closer than three feet.

In some sections of Virginia the ordinary grain drill is most commonly used for seeding soybeans both broadcast and in rows. Where the drill is used for seeding in rows the width of the rows is governed by stopping the feed cups which are not needed. In sections where drills are not available the corn planter is the most commonly used machine. Plates which will sow the desired amount of beans can be purchased for most corn planters.

Regardless of the method used in planting soybeans, care should be taken not to cover them too deep. In the heavier types of soil such as clay and loams the depth of seeding should not exceed two inches, while in the sandy soils three inches is not too deep.

Soybeans may be planted any time after danger of frost, however, there is nothing to be gained by early planting since toybeans do not grow well in cool weather. For most parts of Virginia the first two weeks in May is an ideal time to plant. The important thing is for the soil to be warm. Any

Liver Sufferers Amazed At Results Obtained From Remarkable New Treatment

Thousands Reporting Sargon Soft Mass Pills Have Brought Them Lasting Relief From Constipation—Sour Stomach—Sick Headaches — Gas—Bad Breath—Coated Tongue—Nervousness and Dizzy Spells After Everything Else Had Failed.

If Your Liver Is Not Performing Its Proper Functions—Sickness—Suffering and Ill Health Are the Inevitable Result.

Science Has Proved That Salts, Calomel, Mineral Waters, Oils, Laxative Pills, Herb Teas or Extracts Have No Effect Whatever on the Liver or Its Production of Bile.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of the effect produced by this natural cleansing of your liver and bowels. It makes you feel years younger, stronger, healthier and happier. It brings back life and color to faded eyes and cheeks, restores the appetite and sound digestion—gives you a new outlook on life itself.

Bile is nature's laxative and your stomach and bowels require at least one quart of fresh bile every day to keep them clean, pure, free from fermentation, gas and disease germs. When bile ceases to flow, sluggish and lazy bowels become clogged freely. The contents of these organs become the breeding place for germs and poisons; your food does not digest—it just ferments and decays in the bowels. The blood absorbs these poisons and you suffer from constipation, gas, sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness and sour stomach.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills remove the cause of this condition in nature's way. They are not like any other medicine you have ever taken. They give a gentle thorough and natural in the bowels. They do nothing more than to remind you, in the most natural way, that a laxative, and most remarkable of all you gradually reduce the dose until you no longer require a laxative of any kind.

Insist on genuine Sargon Soft Mass Pills. Don't be misled. There are only two generally recognized substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of these substances and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.

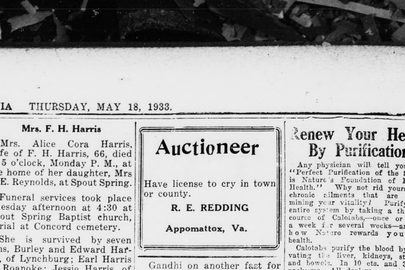
Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At all druggists. Sargon Co. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

STOPS a Headache

There seems to be no safer way to end a headache—and there certainly is no safer way—than two tablets of Bayer Aspirin.

You've heard doctors say Bayer Aspirin is safe. If you've tried it, you know it's effective. You could take these tablets every day in the year without any ill effects. And every time you take them, you get the desired relief.

Stick to Bayer Aspirin. It's safe. It gets results. Quick relief from headaches, colds, or other sudden discomfort.



A Junior-Senior Flight Dinner

AT this time of the year, a senior at school is way up in the clouds—although a Junior may still have his feet on the ground—so there is no more appropriate way for you Juniors to stage a farewell party for the seniors than with a Flight Dinner.

The invitations instruct the guests to HOP OFF—June 10th at 9 p.m.

HANGAR—The Gym
FLIGHT COMMANDER — Bill Edwards '34.

And the gym, or the dining hall, or wherever the dinner is to be served, should present the appearance of a hangar. The floor should be entirely cleared for the banquet table, so as to leave room for "the hop" and stunts. Stretch wires lengthwise across the hall, hanging gray crepe-paper streamers over the wires in parallel rows, making the streamers short in the center and long at the sides to give the dome-shape effect of a hangar. Post pictures of flyers and planes on the walls, and also amusing placards, such as:

Gracie Allen thinks an AIR POCKET is a pocket with a hole in it.

Believe it or not, a JOY STICK isn't a lollypop.

No cock-fighting permitted in the COCKPIT.

Don't ask for a FUSELAGE for a cigarette lighter.

● Give Them Goggles

Possibly some of the guests are real flyers, and if so, ask them to dress in their most authentic flying togs and help receive. Present all of the guests on arriving with goggles cut out of cardboard, and aviation caps which may be cut out of tan crepe paper and sewed in the required shape.

The Flight Commander announces the "stunt flying" which should include some such foolish but lively stunts as these:

1. Nose Dive. Participants sit in chairs along the wall, and at a signal from the Flight Commander they dive to the center of the hall and pick up a bonbon with their mouth, and then dash back again to their seat. The first one to complete the dive wins a prize.

2. Control Test might test a blindfolded flyer's control when he is offered the odor of garlic, the handshake of an icy-cold wet glove, a girl's kiss—or whatever may be considered a good test.

There will probably be dancing between courses of the dinner, so we have selected a very delicious banquet menu—the sort that one can linger over with time-out for toasts, class songs and a general good time. These recipes are so simple that they could be prepared by some of the Junior girls who are going in for domestic science courses; they are tested and each is designed to serve fifty persons:

Melon, Banana and Apricot Cup
Tomato Bouillon
Bread Sticks Radish Roses
Spiced Salmon with Russian Mask
Broiled Half Chicken
Parsley Potatoes
New Asparagus with Drawn Butter
Hot Rolls
Green Salad with Roquefort Dressing
Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream
Small Cakes Demi-Tasse

Melon, Banana and Apricot Cups: Cut the contents of two No. 2½ cans of apricots in dice shapes, and add to eight cups of melon balls, eight cups of banana cubes. Add four cups of orange juice, one cup lemon juice and sugar to taste. Chill well and serve in cocktail cups.

Spiced Salmon with Russian Mask: Remove the skin from four No. 1 cans of salmon (or use the skinless salmon) leaving the salmon in large pieces. Place in a shallow pan. Simmer for three minutes four cups vinegar, one teaspoon peppercorns, four teaspoons whole cloves, and one teaspoon grated nutmeg. Pour over the salmon, and let stand for two hours. Chill. Drain and serve a small piece masked with the following Russian Mask: Chop eight hard-cooked eggs, one-half cup chopped sweet pickle and one-half cup chopped green pepper. Grate four teaspoons of onion, and add all to the mayonnaise. Add one cup chili sauce, and serve on the spiced salmon.*

Get Out Book On Va. Court House Legends

Richmond, May 17.—A limited edition of "Legends of Virginia Courthouses," written by John H. Gwathmey, a Richmond newspaper man of wide experience, is to be brought out by the Dietz Press late in May. It will be illustrated with pencil drawings of a number of the older Virginia courthouses by Miss Lucy Payne Pinder.

The book adds another chapter that has long been neglected in the volumes of Virginiana. There are more than six by titles, mainly anecdotes and legendary lore about prominent lawyers and jurists of past generations. The author gathered his material at first-hand from the county-seats.

In the legendary stories included in the volume there is much droll humor and the incidents related in many cases reflect the characters of those about whom they are written.

Among many other noted characters about whom stories are told are: Judge R. H. Cardwell, Richard Evelyn Byrd, Hill Carter, Henry T. Wickham Judge William S. Barton, General William B. Taliaferro Maryus Jones, Herbert L. Lewis, Major James N. Stubbs, Major Tom Taliaferro, Parson John E. Massey, C. A. Branch Wyndham R. Meredith, Judge Frank Armistead, Judge T. R. B. Stapleton

STAPLETON, May 17.—The Rev. E. I. Lewis preached at Trinity M. E. Church Sunday, at 2 P. M. A self denial collection was taken, which was very gratifying to the officials of the church. After the sermon, Mothers Day was observed by the Beginners and Primary classes. Miss Alice Marin having charge of the program, which was very interesting and much enjoyed by every one. A collection was also taken for the benefit of the Childrens Home Society of Richmond.

Miss Maxine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Martin, and Carrington Story, of Stapleton, were married Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage at Appomattox by the bride's pastor, the Rev. E. I. Lewis.

Colena, the 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drinkard, had the misfortune to break her arm Monday morning while playing, by falling off some steps at the home of her uncle, Eugene Drinkard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Drinkard and Mrs. Marvin Drinkard were dinner guests of Mrs. H. R. Moore Monday.

The Ladies Aid Society of Trinity gave Mrs. A. A. Bell a Shower in her new home last Thursday evening. While there the business meeting of the society was held, after which Mrs. T. Raymond Martin and Mrs. M. M. Drinkard served home-made candy. The Society will meet next month with Mrs. Estonia Martin.

I met Bill's father today.

"Bill's six years old," he said. "He's a hardheaded young man and he treats fairy tales with a withering contempt. He likes real stories. He likes simple books about how things happen. Are there any new books that will fit Bill?"

I give him the names of several new ones, for there are lots of Bills in America today and many authors are writing just the sort of books they like.

Real Adventure Best.

If your Bill doesn't take to fairy tales, to legends, to fables, don't force them on him. Offer him instead Charlotte Kuh's delightful "A Train, A Boat, and an Island"—the story of a real family's real trip to Bermuda. Offer him Felicia Washburne's fascinating "Letters to Channy"—a real mother's letters of a trip around the world written for her own little boy back home, offer him "The Pilgrim's Party" or "The Cruise of Mr. Christopher Columbus" by Sadybeth and Anson Lovell, two humorous and very interesting picture books that acquaint younger readers with stirring history.

Perhaps Bill wants to know more about motormen and firemen and what they really do. Mrs. Kuh's books for small children will help him out there. Perhaps he would like "How It All Began," a book that is delightfully written and illustrated by Janet Smalley. It will tell Bill how primitive man watched the lightning and found he, too, could make fire by twirling two sticks around together. Later man found other ways of heating and lighting and at last we got our matches, gas, oil and electricity. The book goes on, in the simplest fashion, to show the beginnings of messages, of travel, clothing, homes. It is a thrilling sort of real fairy tale that particularly appeals to boys like Bill.

Travel Stories Are Good.

What happens to a real letter after it gets posted may interest some of our very youngest readers. William Siegel, a Bronxian artist, tells a simple story about that in "Around the World in a Mailbag." Bob and Betty's letter to their father cleverly reach him in San Francisco. So it is forwarded to China, Russia, France and even to Egypt. But though the various postmen do their best the letter does not finally reach him until he is back in New York again. The pictures make this book especially attractive.

Here are just a few of the new books for fairy-tale-strikers. Many more are to be found in the libraries and bookstores. Just exactly the book your Bill is looking for is waiting for him there. And it is just the right book for him at the present time.

Take him along and let him help find it!

FOREST VIEW

FOREST VIEW, May 17.—We are having good growing weather. The farmers in this community are working with the Blue Mold pest. All plant beds are infected. Wheat looking pretty good.

Petty's Fork school closed last Friday afternoon with a good program. A play, "The last Half Day of School", was rendered by the pupils in a splendid way. Also "Mother Goose." The childre nhad been well trained. A large crowd was present.

Miss Thelma Webb, who taught Petty's Fork school last term, returned to her home last Friday. She has gained many friends in this neighborhood by her quiet friendly manner, and she is greatly missed by all.

Mrs. Anna Wooldrige is better at this writing.

Mrs. R. W. Martin is better. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lee spent last Sunday in this home.

BOWELS need watching

Let Dr. Caldwell help whenever your child is feverish or upset; or has caught cold.

His simple prescription will make that listless, headachy, cross boy or girl comfortable, happy, well in just a few hours. It soon restores the bowels to healthy regularity. It helps "break up" a cold by keeping the bowels free from all that sickening mucus waste.

You have a famous doctor's word for this laxative. Dr. Caldwell's record of having attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history.

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggists and have it ready. Then you won't have to worry when any member of your family is headachy, bilious, gassy or constipated. Syrup Pepsin is 60 full doses. It sweetens the bowels—tones digestion—makes more complete.

UNAFRAID!

AND OF COURSE THEY ARE RIGHT

THE children of today are unafraid. They have confidence in you, their parents, which means, that they have confidence in their country . . . Although as yet unexpressed, they expect you to preserve this nation and pass it along to them, even as your fathers passed government over to you, sound, secure and a homeland of which to be proud.

. . . You have now seen your country through the darkest hours in world adjustment . . . A new day now dawns . . . May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

Henry Ford
